What's up it's 2012. You've already heard all the new years jokes so I'll move right along.

This is the Inception Toike. More specifically, it's a Toike within a Toike within a Toike within a Toike. That's four Toikes for the price of one! Awesome!

Now, when we were writing this particular Toike, we came up with a list of ideas for the themes that each Toike could be. Unfortunately, only 4 could be chosen from the list, and we were absolutely hammered when we came up with the list.

So, not letting a good thing go to waste, I present to you the list.

COLOPHON

The Toike Oike is produced using 3 Gameboy Colours and a pirated copy of Math Circus. Most people wonder how we can write a newspaper every month using those tools alone, and the truth is that we don't. We just sit around playing Pokemon and Escape From Castle Wolfenstein until the time travelling Toike writers from the year 2016 hand-deliver the next issue.

WHAT HO?

Toike Oike is the process of repeating items in a self-similar way. For instance, when the surfaces of two mirrors are exactly parallel with each other the nested images that occur are a form of Toike Oike. The term has a variety of meanings specific to a variety of disciplines ranging from linguistics to logic. The most common application of recursion is in mathematics and computer science, in which it refers to a method of defining functions in which the function being defined is applied within its own definition.

DISCLAIMER

The radical, ultra buffalo-wing opinions expressed in this newspaper reflect those of the Engineering Society and the University of Toronto. In fact, they even reflect the opinions of the writers. NOT! If you happen to find any of the material within these pages offensive, do not try to sue us, as we have a crack team of racially diverse lawyers ready to bring the pain and give out mix tapes. Sucka MC's ain't shit.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,
Can you propose to the female on the November cover on my behalf?

-Introvert

Dear Introvert,
The person on the cover is me.
And yes, I accept.

Andrew

Dear Editor,
Reading your newspaper made me wish again if only I could turn back time and go to university again! Instead of choosing Liberal Arts (well, if I only knew that the only available career options after that was either cleaning washrooms or dishes!!) I would definitely go to study Engineering! I wouldn't have cut all those classes in high school (I always skipped Math and Science classes, with truly terrible results). My life story can be a cautionary tale for all the youth now! "Look what could happen to you if you decide to major in Philosophy or Literature!"

-Ania

Dear Ania,
Thanks. I, uh, don't really know what to say. We really don't get many non-joke letters to the editor over here at the Toike, in fact most of us haven't heard or read anything serious in years. You've caught us off guard I suppose you win this round.

Andrew

Dear Editor,
Dicks dicks dicks dicks.

-Dicks

Dear Dicks,
Thank you for offending the seriousness of this section. You have done us all a great service.

Andrew

Dear Editor,
Have you ever had a bottle of seagrams gin, and everybody's got their cup, but they ain't chipped in?

-Snoopy

Dear Snoop,
Now this types of shit, happens all the time. You got to get yours but fool I gotta get mine.

Andrew

Dear Andrew,
I have a question for you. Why are you such an arrogant prick? Also, tell the rest of the Toike staff that they are arrogant pricks as well.

Sincerely,
Me.

Dear You,
I think you need to chill.

Andrew

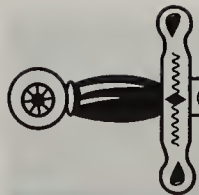

Dear Andrew,
DON'T TELL ME TO CHILL.
I'M TIRED OF PEOPLE TELLING ME TO CHILL

Sincerely,
Me.

Dear You,
Oh jeez calm down, Christ.

Andrew

NASA blames lack of progress on unseen robotic space battle

Just last week, NASA officially went on record stating that recent setbacks on the space exploration front are not due to a lack of budget or interest, but instead due to an ongoing duel between "Space Bear and Robot Pterodactyl". According to NASA, the fight has been going on since the 70s when the Russians and Americans both deployed their large robot space domination programs.

"Last week," said one NASA scientist, "Space Bear took an asteroid with the density of a dwarf star to its groin. Earlier this month, however, Robot Pterodactyl's Left-Low-Orbital-Cannons were destroyed after taking a direct hit and extensive rainbow damage from Space Bears Muffin-Torpedos. Its Swiss Clockwork Steam Engine has fared magnificently throughout the fight, though."

When the Toike Oike asked how NASA was able to detect such significant and catastrophic events while the rest of the world saw nothing, NASA simply replied that they are the only ones with the capable equipment.

"Look, this might seem like an obvious and desperate attempt to maintain our image and avoid getting our funds cut, but frankly you have no way of proving us wrong."

On reviewing NASA's recent expenses, the Toike Oike found only receipts for hallucinogenic drugs, Carl Sagan's Cosmos, and My Little Pony Friendship is Magic."

Eng Soc cuts Toike budget, bombings to follow "Photo-bombings," Toike Oike lawyer chimes in

By Chim Richaldis

Sanford Fleming Building, U of T -- In a controversial move earlier today, the University of Toronto's Engineering Society decided to reduce the funding of U of T's best, all-time favourite newspaper ever, the Toike Oike. This rash decision was made by the VP Finance in an attempt to run a budget surplus for some reason, more surprisingly so during a year where every country in the world is running a deficit just to give their citizens the minimum possible amount public services, and even MORE surprisingly so in an organization that is non-profit! "More like VP Celeryfucker," said one completely random student. We're not sure what he meant by that, but we approve of the expletive.

In response to the decision, the Toike Oike will be launching a bombing campaign against the entirety of Eng Soc. "We will bomb them up so hard. We will bomb them from morning until night," Toike PR rep, Phil Robertson was quoted saying. He went on to say: "I swear to god, we will bomb them into the middle of next week. We will bomb and bomb and bomb until there's nothing left of them to bomb. You understand what I'm saying? You wanna get bombed up too?" The interviewer was understandably intimidated, but chose to press on. When asked about the details of the campaign, Robertson said, "It's top secret right now, but you can rest assured that this is going to be epic. Blitzkreig-style, baby. We're gonna bomb at school, at dinner dances, in people's bedrooms, at home with their families, we're gonna bomb everywhere. This shit's gonna be highbrow."

Scared by the implications of such a campaign, we decided to ask the Toike's dedicated (and necessary) lawyer. "I told those stupid shits to very explicitly state that it's a PHOTO bombing campaign. They're going to be sneaking into the background of people's pictures and making dumb faces. That's it. There won't be any explosives. Nothing dangerous. They're just sneaking into pictures. Please don't sue. I have enough on my plate with the naked picture thing. No more questions."

Shark in scuba gear attacks Torontonians Marine biologist claims this heralds end-times

By Ace Superklick

Bloor Street, Toronto -- The streets of downtown Toronto are unusually quiet this week. Absent is the annual throng of shoppers searching for January sales and discounts. An eerie calm fills the normally bustling avenues. Everyone is at home, hiding from the danger.

In what has been called the worst incident since the Amity Island attack of '75, Toronto has been the setting for three grisly killings in the past weeks. This is not the work of any ordinary serial killer, however.

Police were initially baffled by the victims' remains. The wounds didn't match any recognizable weapon, and were far too severe to be attributed to mere happenstance. The first victim was found near Harbourfront, and, grasping at straws, the police enlisted the help of a marine biologist, one Harold Jensen.

What he found discovered changed the case entirely.

"It's a shark", Jensen said. "It's a goddamn shark, plain and simple."

Understandably confused, the police made extensive inquiries, but to no avail, finding no witnesses to the incident. Before they could close the case, however, there was another attack, claiming the life of a young woman, showing the same MO. This time, however, multiple bystanders stepped forward to give information. The attack took place in a crowded Nathan Phillips Square, in broad daylight.

"It...it was brutal", reports one young man. "This thing just cruised on up to her and, well, bit her in half. There was nothing we could do, it happened so fast! And besides, what COULD we do?"

The shark in question was wearing a scuba suit of sorts, allowing it to traverse dry land with impunity.

We asked Jensen to comment on this. "Sharks are horrendous, there's no doubt about it. They are the natural enemy of all that is good in this world. It was this evil that prompted Spielberg to direct his public service announcement, Jaws, in order to warn the world of the threat posed by these sea-demons. Most people think that marine biologists like me are here to study sea creatures, but really our main job is to prepare for the sharks' inevitable march onto land, devouring us all in a cold-eyed tide of hunger and soullessness. We've failed. I'm so sorry, but we've failed you all."

When asked if he thought that this could be an isolated incident, Jensen scoffed, a gleam of madness entering his eyes. "Absolutely not. If they have this kind of technology, then it's only a matter of time until they walk among us. Maybe they're here already, we can't underestimate them. All we can do now is hide. Hide, and pray to whatever gods may listen. Cruel Poseidon has abandoned us, but perhaps there are others who may yet help us oppose the oncoming storm. We can but hope."

Police have responded by issuing a curfew, and by recommending that citizens always travel in groups of three or more. Leaning forward, the spokesperson beckoned this reporter closer and whispered in my ear "And always try to have a fat guy with you. Just in case, you know, for bait. But you didn't hear that from me!"

The Toike will attempt to remain available as a resource to those of you who can avoid the sharks, but there may come a time when we are no longer able to publish. We wish the best of luck to you all, and can only offer this final advice: for God's sake, stay out of the water!

An inside look at the university's new 2012 courses

CSC9001 Foundations of Computer Hacking

Learn how to hack, fight against other hackers, transfer billions of dollars, and blurt out nonsensical computer jargon

Prerequisites: None

Professor: Keanu Reeves

Chapters:

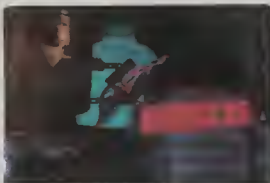

- 1 - The faster you type, the better
- 2 - Programs take no time to load
- 3 - Making GUI Interfaces to track IP addresses
- 4 - Making up computer jargon on the fly
- 5 - Coding alternate reality and self-aware computers
- 6 - The Bit-9 Bytranspass-Glowtski algorithm

TNT101 Introduction to Explosives

Explore how bombs work, explosion radii, and the basic interfaces of bombs.

Prerequisites: None

Professor: Michael Bay

Chapters:

- 1 - Basics of Bombs
- 2 - Why all bombs have timers
- 3 - Why all bombs have colored wires

TNT201 Advanced Explosives

Go more in-depth into the physics behind bombs, and related topics

Prerequisites: TNT101

Professor: Michael Bay

Chapters:

- 1 - Aliens and their explosive-proof armor
- 2 - Diving away from an explosion: safe
- 3 - The myth of shrapnel
- 4 - Vehicles: Bombs with wheels

TTR401 Time Travel

Go in-depth into the study of time travel, causality, and much more.

Prerequisites: PHY334

Professor: Doc Brown

Chapters:

- 1 - It's totally possible
- 2 - Flux Capacitors
- 3 - The logic paradox: Able to sort itself out in the end
- 4 - Back To The Future and other examples of incest

HRR150 Henchmen Trade Skills

An introduction to serving as a labourer or guard for a faceless, morally questionable organization

Prerequisites: None

Professor: Only TAs

Chapters:

- 1 - The right to a safe work environment, and other misconceptions
- 2 - The benefits of hanging around explosive barrels and gas tanks
- 3 - Defending a self-destructing base

GNS201 Introduction to Guns

Learn about the basics of guns - their fire rates, infinite ammo capacity, magnetic features and much more.

Prerequisites: None

Professors: Clive Owen & Arnold Schwarzenegger

Chapters:

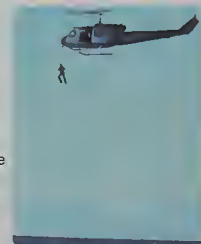

- 1 - The myth of recoil
- 2 - Reloading: only when it's dramatic
- 3 - The benefits of dual wielding
- 4 - The Rambo Postulate - Magnetic repulsion of heroes to bullets

FRF323 Bodies in Free Fall

In depth coverage of human bodies in free fall, terminal velocity (actually quite small), and safe things to fall into.

Prerequisites: None

Professor: Bruce Willis

Chapters:

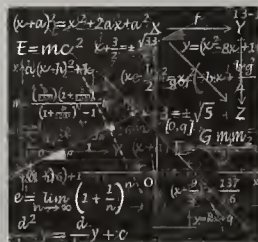

- 1 - Falling into water won't kill you. Ever.
- 2 - Dumpsters are safe too, and always have black garbage bags full of soft things
- 3 - Jumping from 3 stories and running right after
- 4 - Newton's Laws: More like Newton's Guidelines
- 5 - Landing any fall by rolling

PHY434 Super Advanced Physics

Breaking the laws of science using genius-level intellect, excessively complex language, and sufficiently large research budgets

Prerequisites: PHY334

Professor: Leonard Nimoy

Chapters:

- 1 - The Centrifugal Force
- 2 - Accelerating from 0 to warp speed in seconds but not feeling the force
- 3 - Perpetual Motion
- 4 - Making up physics jargon to make you sound cool
- 5 - Plasma-6 phase shifters for intergalactic matrix time warp wormhole travel

CCC202 Super Hero Physics

Explore the physics behind superheroes, their weaknesses and more.

Prerequisites: Industrial Accident, Science Experiment Gone Wrong, or Something From Space

Professor: Tony Stark

Chapters:

- 1 - Why all superpowers are both useful and interesting
- 2 - Newton's Laws: Only for normal people
- 2 - Transistors
- 3 - More Transistors
- 4 - Moar Transistors (Mr. Stark insisted)
- 5 - Superman Theorem - Why air and debris don't get in your face while flying
- 6 - Telepathy: Humans actually think in complete sentences!
- 7 - Buying your own superpowers using the family fortune

What is Beeropoly?

Beeropoly is a condensed, drinking-themed version of Monopoly that can be played right off the centrespread. All you need is:

1. The centrespread
2. Some random stuff to use as player pieces
3. A dice-rolling smartphone app (or real dice)
4. Copious beverages
5. Maybe something to write with

To too difficult to get on a Friday night.

There is no money to deal with in this game. Instead of losing and receiving money, you drink and tell others to drink. What is it that you're drinking? Anything you want. It could be beer, but it could also be soda. I'll tell you what it isn't though: a lawsuit. Don't go killing yourself with alcohol or doing stupid shit because of this game. Drink responsibly. There, I said it.

With that out of the way, you may be wondering how you win or lose in a game without money. It's simple: you forfeit if you run out of beverages or you cannot consume any more. Winning is last one standing.

The listed "prices" are merely recommendations; you can alter them all you want so long as you keep the scale. The value of 1 "drink" is typically 1 average sip, but ultimately it is up to the players and the honour system.

Trading properties is allowed. Buying and selling by telling players to drink or drinking yourself are valid transactions, though players ultimately choose these restrictions.

If a player knocks out another player, that is to say if one player's rent charge causes another player to forfeit, that player's belongings are given to the person who knocked them out. If taxes knock out a player, properties become unowned again.

Rules:

First, players select their player pieces and place them on GO. Pick whoever gets to go first on your own rules. I recommend a nice game of "shotty first". Turns go around the table/board clockwise.

Roll two dice (on your phone or in real life) and move your piece around clockwise. If you roll doubles, roll again. If you roll three doubles in a row, you must proceed directly to the drunk tank (jail).

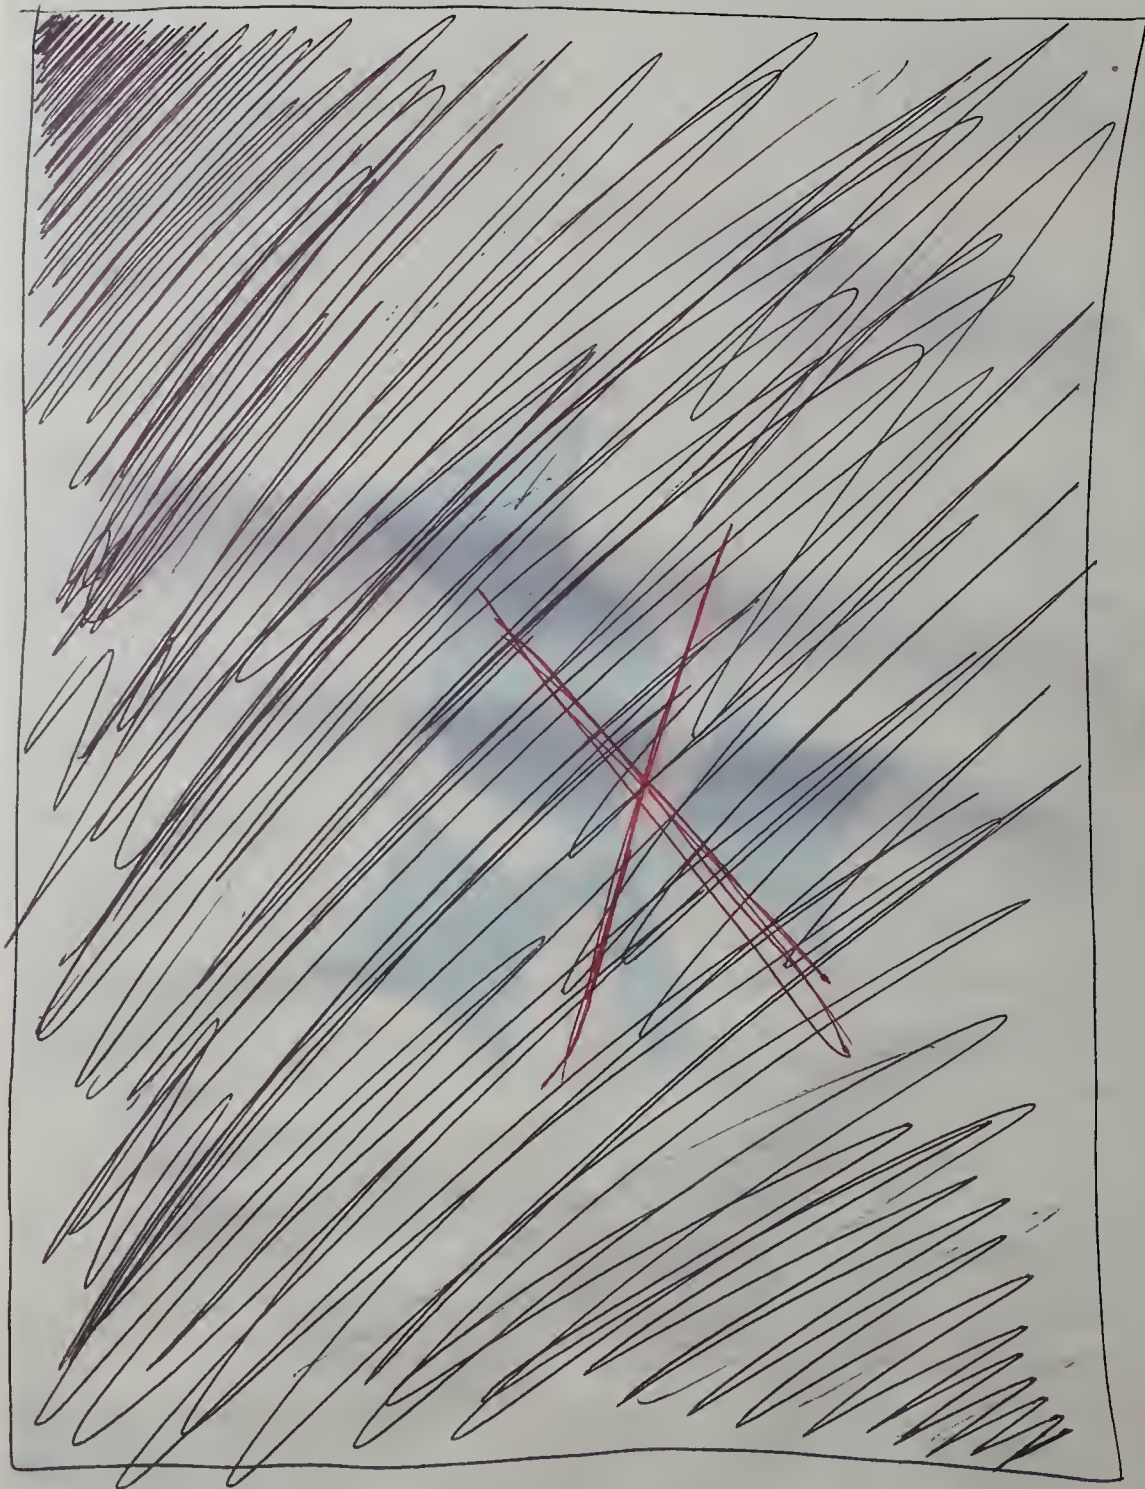

Whenever you land on an unowned property, you have the option to buy that property by drinking the number drinks listed under Cost. Use a pen, other marking device, your memory, or whatever else you can think of to mark that a property is yours.

Whenever you land on a property owned by another player, you must pay them rent by drinking the number of drinks listed under Rent.

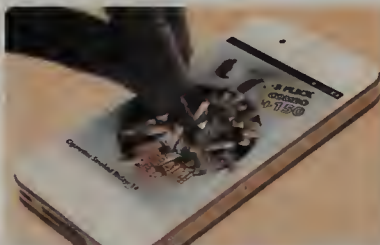

If you own all properties of a certain colour, rent is doubled. If you choose to pay the House Cost, you may place up to 1 house (use a pen or something) on that property and subsequently charge players the House Rent. Same applies to Hotels. You may only purchase houses once all properties of that colour are owned by you, and you may only purchase hotels once all properties of that colour have 1 house each.

If you land on Community Drink, everybody takes 1 drink. If you land on Chance, roll the dice and count around the table/board clockwise starting with you. Player the count lands on takes 1 drink. Income Tax, Luxury Tax, Free Parking, and Go To Drunk Tank all have instructions included. If you land on the Drunk Tank space, place your piece on the Just Chillin section and do nothing.

If a player is sent to jail, they do not pass GO. That player stays in jail until they roll doubles or take a 2 drink fine. Players are kicked out of jail after 3 of their turns.

THE MIGHTY SKULE CALENDAR IS HERE

What the fuck is a Skule Calendar?
 Why should I get one?

I'll tell you why you sonofabitch. This calendar is not your average boring ass calendar. Check this shit out:

1. It's got 12 months of sexy-themed photos from all your favorite Skule clubs and figureheads like the LGMB, Lady Godiva, Skule Rugby, and The Mighty Skule Cannon.
2. We put holiday on every single god damn day (so now you always have an excuse to skip work)
3. It's $10. So cheap. It also goes to charity.

The Twilight Saga Continues

By Erica Kick-Puncher

Stephenie Meyer's The Twilight Saga: Late Morning
(Release date: August 1, 2014)

Reawakening after the dramatic Breaking Dawn, Meyer's languid return to the Twilight Saga, Late Morning, pulls back the covers on the double-edged fang that is vampire love. With an emotional storm brewing darker than a strong espresso, life is looking far from sunny-side up for Bella, Edward, and Jacob.

Stephenie Meyer's The Twilight Saga: Early Midday
(Release date: August 9, 2017)

Their mental capacity inhibiting their understanding of the passage of time, revived Twilight fans everywhere delighted when Meyer announced that Early Midday was to follow Late Morning. In this captivating page-turner, consequences of past actions come to the forefront, sucking the vampires deep into a scarlet pool of bloodshed. Just how long will they manage to hold on by the skin of their teeth?

Stephenie Meyer's The Twilight Saga: High Noon
(Release date: November 26, 2021)

Much like the "last tour ever" rignmarole of washed-up classic rock bands, Stephenie Meyer returns, once again, to the Twilight Saga. In the satiating High Noon, teeth gnash and limbs are sliced to pieces as Meyer brings to the table her most bloodthirsty writing yet. As the pot of bittersweet tension between parties threatens to boil over, somebody must swallow their pride and make an exit.

Stephenie Meyer's The Twilight Saga: Game of Bridge
(Release date: November 26, 2048)

Now catering to an aged fan-base, Stephenie Meyer follows High Noon with the thrilling Game of Bridge. Twenty-something Alex is brought to the forefront along with the familiar trio of Jacob, Edward, and Bella. Characters find that their hearts, in the eternal struggle for true love, begin to tire more easily, while their minds are utterly confused. A valiant fight leaves Edward with dentures. Game of Bridge is the perfect contemporary classic for those in their twilight years. Although slower-paced, this stubborn continuation of the Saga keeps up the tradition of lavish romance and melodrama.

Toike Oike Sex Quiz

Do you consider yourself an expert in the most obscure sexual things? Do you watch a lot of internet porn, laugh uncontrollably at dick jokes and create awkward social situations with your disgusting sense of humor? We here at the Toike do, so we created a foolproof test to determine just how disgusting your mind is. Match the words to their hints, then check your answers. Give yourself one point for each correct answer.

1. Ménage à trois

- a) A slightly more obvious name for penis...
- b) Good 'ol fashioned sex, absolutely nothing to do with candles...
- c) Save a cowboy, ride a horse?
- d) Sex position, also known as the squat thruster. Someone's going upside down for this one...
- e) A very, very obscure term for dildo
- f) Hot water, soapy bubbles and sex in the bathtub. Sounds like this position...
- g) An uncircumcised penis. You want that with or without mustard?
- h) Female masturbation, sans Mexican food references.
- i) A recently invented term for sex, not some new salad.
- j) A very obscure word for penis.

- k) A rather obscure british slang term for vagina, I do say.
- l) A threesome. Or a dessert item? Perhaps both?
- m) A very, very, very obscure term for sex.
- n) More obvious slang term for vagina.
- o) SHE'S GIVING ME ____, MAN!!
- p) For when indoor sex just doesn't cut it, heat things in up the subzero Canadian winter. May cause frostbite in places you don't want bitten.
- q) Also known as meat mashing, holding the sausage hostage, jerkin' the gherkin, playing the skin flute, polishing the knob, tuning the antenna, waxing the walrus, choking the chicken, cranking the shaft, the five knuckle shuffle, floggin' the log, having an arm wrestle with the one-eyed vessel, etc.

If you scored: 0-2

Verbal Virgin

You probably should put this newspaper down immediately, as most of the jokes probably won't make much sense to you. My recommendation for you: try googling "sex".

If you scored: 3-7

Cosmo Girl

I'm guessing that years of romantic comedies and women's magazines have served as the basis for your sex education. You're fairly informed, but there's room for improvement. On the bright side, you probably know enough to laugh at our sex jokes. My recommendation: continue to read the Toike as often as possible.

If you scored: 8-12

Sexual Hipster

Good job. You know enough to even get some of the weirder ones right. When it comes to sexual trivia, you're kind of like that hipster who listens to weird genres no one's ever heard of.

If you scored: 12-17

Obscurity God

Holy shit. How do you even know this many? Seriously, I didn't even know what most of these meant before I wrote this. You're pretty much a god of sex trivia, which is something to feel good about, I guess. Or you cheated.

TOIKEOSCOPES

ARIES

The average person eats three spiders a year, but as you're about to find out, it takes an entire year for three spiders to eat a person.

TAURUS

The cold sucks, but on bright side of things, warmer weather is only four months away! Maybe you'll find another excuse for being an antisocial loser by then.

GEMINI

With a new year comes a fresh start, a chance to mend any bad relationships. Consider sending an apology letter to the professor you poisoned, for example.

CANCER

Your sign is cancer? How fitting.

LEO

When the time comes, you'll be glad you knew you could remove blood from a carpet with baking soda.

VIRGO

Don't you just hate it when authors break the fourth wall?

LIBRA

Change up your routine a bit to avoid getting stuck in a rut -- try getting drunk with some friends at a party.

SCORPIO

You never imagined the saying "politics make strange bedfellows" would so literal, but you never thought you'd be able to sneak into Stephen Harper's bedroom undetected either.

SAGITTARIUS

Remember, people like you for who you are: An incredibly insecure person willing to do almost anything for acceptance.

CAPRICORN

Your recent birthday will make you think about the time you have left on this planet. So will your diagnosis.

AQUARIUS

Your search for a new job will hit a stumbling block when you learn that it is technically not illegal to discriminate against the ugly.

PISCES

We want YOU to join forces with US

There is just an absurd number of ways you can get involved with your friendly neighbourhood Toike Oike, and anyone can join. It doesn't matter what year, faculty, discipline, or college you're a part of; if you can read this black box then you're good enough for us.

Can you photoshop like a boss? Can you draw or sketch comics or pictures? Do you have an appreciation for humour? Do you have writing experience and want to try your hand at humour writing? Do people think you're funny but you're far too modest to ever admit that you're a funny person? Do you have the mad English skills required to pick out our typos and grammar follies? Do you not have any of these skills but just appreciate comedy enough to want to help brainstorm ideas and/or try acquiring some valuable new skills?

If you answered "yes" to ANY of the above questions, we could definitely use a person like you!

Head over to www.toike.skule.ca/join and get on the mailing list!

You'll be automatically notified of any and all upcoming meeting dates, times, and locations.
